

MR. GLADSTONE'S PLATFORM.

IRELAND THE CHIEF TOPIC OF HIS ELECTION ADDRESS.

THE GOVERNMENT'S LEGISLATION REVIEWED—THE STATEMAN'S ATTITUDE ON THE LABOR QUESTION.

London, June 23.—Mr. Gladstone's election address has just been issued. It opens with a discussion of the Irish question, on which topic the Liberal leader says:

"Great Britain will now decide whether three countries shall henceforth constitute in reality as well as in statute name the United Kingdom. Ireland was never so loyal to the Crown or united in heart as in the years following 1782, when she enjoyed local government, until the concord was disturbed in 1793 by wicked machinations. For a generation after the union Ireland slept a deadly sleep of physical misery and political servitude. The reforms of 1829-32 gave her consciousness and a voice. From then her heavy grievances in battling for her aspirations have constituted a great standing bureau in Parliament and the chief element in the fulfillment of its duties. The proposal for which the Liberals have for the last six years contended will set Ireland free to manage her domestic affairs by a local Legislature in close sympathy with Irish life, and will set Parliament free to undertake vast schemes of business and supply the legislative wants of England and Wales. The constant growth of sound opinion, testified by the result of a multitude of by-elections, has shown that the British people now thoroughly comprehend how irresistible are the claims of Ireland on our honor and justice, and how a settlement will open a direct road to the satisfaction of British interests long held in suspense."

"The Government of Ireland, by the past Parliament has utterly failed in every respect except that of enabling the Irish agriculturist to improve his condition by the Act of 1887, the main provisions of which the Ministry denounced in 1889 as immoral and dishonorable, and thereby drove the people to the 'Plan of Campaign,' and became the true author of whatever dangers and hardships were thus produced. Ireland, indignant at the broken pledges of the Tory Dissident coalition, is more than ever hostile to the methods of government of Dublin Castle, but calm and peaceful in reliance on the electors of Great Britain. The sentiments already prevailing between the British and the Irish supply a happy omen of the reciprocal affection which must follow a frank concession of Home Rule sheltered by Imperial supremacy. Even in the two counties in the North, where alone alarm prevails over calm reason, I have no doubt experience will quickly bring the population back to that sense of brotherhood with the rest of Ireland which before the union so honorably distinguished their fathers."

Mr. Gladstone here reviews the Government's legislation, dwelling upon the impropriety in the English Local Government bill and Small Holdings bill, which he says the majority, especially the ex-Liberals, prevented the Labor from bringing to a debate standard of efficiency. He then proceeds to enumerate the chief items of the Newcastle programme. He says that the proposed payment of labor members of Parliament, and similar measures, will remove labor from the lowest possible level by placing it in a position to help itself. Regarding shorter hours of labor, he says that such has already been done by legislation, and voluntary arrangement constitutes a guarantee of the working classes. He improves upon workers that what is achieved is due to popular government, which is founded upon a just appreciation of personal liberty, with which the true strength of the working class is essentially allied. In conclusion, he says he feels that this must surely be the last general election in which he shall solicit the suffrage of his constituents, and that he can expect to execute a small special share of the work he has sketched out.

A LETTER FROM SENATOR PLATT.

HE WILL STAND BY THE PRINCIPLES AND NOMINEES OF HIS PARTY, AS HERETOFORE.

The ratification meeting of the Lincoln Club of the XIVth Assembly District, held last night at No. 35 Third-avenue, was a signal success. The club had issued a number of invitations to prominent Republicans. This letter, sent to the president of the club in reply to the various invitations, fully contradicted Democratic fabrications with regard to one Republican leader.

New-York, June 22, 1892.

Mr. John R. Nugent,

No. 35 Third-avenue, New-York City.

My Dear Sir: I feel highly complimented by the invitation just received to attend a ratification meeting of the Lincoln Club of the XIVth Assembly District, Thursday evening next, to ratify the Republican ticket. Other engagements will prevent my participating in these interesting proceedings, but, as a loyal Republican who has ever stood by the principles and nominees of the party, I will be with you in spirit. With best wishes for a harmonious and enthusiastic meeting, I remain yours faithfully,

T. C. PLATT.

Daniel F. Murphy occupied the chair and James T. Conroy acted as secretary. He presented resolutions expressing allegiance to the principles and nominees of the Republican party, and warmly approving the nominations made at the meeting, and pledging the club to all honorable efforts in securing the success of the nominees of the party. The speakers of the evening were John J. Bealin, General Kerwin, L. L. Van Allen and H. A. Matthews.

The quarters of the club were elaborately decorated by one of the most artistic transcendents in the city. Outside, and inside the rooms by display of flags and campaign banners, and the Republican flag, the Republican fronted from the time of Lincoln.

AT THE STATE CAMP.

Peekskill, N. Y., June 23.—The members of the 69th Regiment and Troop, after spending a cool night in camp, sleeping under blankets, were up early this morning and ready for work. There were the usual guard-mount and drills, in which the men continued to show improvement. The officer of the day was Captain Coleman, and the officers of the guard were Lieutenants Mahon and Metcalf. One of the features of the day's work was a lively lay-out drill by the members of the 69th.

RAIN AND LIGHTNING SPOILED THE FUN.

The Fete Champetre and Fair given under the auspices of the Staten Island Cricket Club and the Ladies' Club of Living-on, Staten Island, was brought to an abrupt and unfortunate ending by the fearful storm of yesterday afternoon. A tree near the tent in which all the articles, being sold was struck by lightning, and the fair, which had been a success, was a lively lay-out drill by the members of the 69th.

ACTIVE NEW-JERSEY CLUBS.

The Republican ticket will be ratified tomorrow at a meeting to be held in Park Ridge, Bergen County, N. J., under the auspices of the Republican Club of the 1st District of Washington Township. Mr. Wagner, of Brooklyn, and other good speakers are expected to address the meeting.

Several new members were taken into the Republican Club of Rutherford at its meeting last night, and a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The executive committee was enlarged to eight members, the three new members being young J. H. Plummer, and the past president, Benjamin Burgess, Roy Tyler and George Ward.

THE LOCKOUT DEFERRED.

MEETING OF IRON LEAGUE MEMBERS.

THE FIGHT WILL BE A DETERMINED ONE, BOTH SIDES DECLARE.

The threat of the Iron League to lock out all members of the House of Representatives employed in the iron industry, thereby throwing out of employment from 50,000 to 60,000 unskilled workers in other trades dependent on the activity of the iron industry, was not carried out yesterday. The announcement made on Wednesday that the lockout would surely be ordered yesterday caused consternation among thousands of workers who are in no way identified with the fight between the league and the House of Representatives, and who would suffer more than the housemen themselves.

The executive committee of the Iron League met this morning at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the office of J. M. Cornell, No. 141 Centre-st. The meeting lasted two hours. The committee is composed of J. M. Cornell, of J. R. & J. M. Cornell, New York; B. E. J. Ellis, of the Iron Works, Brooklyn; W. H. McCord, of East & McCord, New York; J. Cooper, of the Jackson Architectural Iron Works, New York; W. E. Lyon, Jr., of New York; W. T. Wallis, of the Wallis Iron Works, New York; and J. L. Healy, of the Healy Iron Works, Brooklyn. At the close of the meeting the following was given out by the committee for publication: "The executive committee of the Iron League met this morning at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the office of J.
